Dedicated
TO A MUCH LOVED TEACHER AND FRIEND,

Mr. Dernon Winn

Whose sympathetic interest in the students and their problems has been conspicuous through the long years of his quiet service. His deference for the feelings of others, his faithfulness to duty, his proficiency in everything he does,—in short, his unfeigned Christianity have earned him the title of a prince among men, and of a prince in every student's heart.

A man of few words his sincere life speaks more eloquently than many sermons, and we have been led to respect, admire, and love him.

ELDER DON H. SPILLMAN

Message from the President of the Board

In the front of my Bible I have placed these words from the pen of William De Witt Hyde: "Give me clean hands, clean words, and clean thoughts; help me to stand for the hard right against easy wrong; save me from habits that harm; teach me to work as hard and play as fair in Thy sight alone as if the whole world saw; forgive me when I am unkind; and help me to forgive those who are unkind to me; keep me ready to help others at some cost to myself; send me chances to do a little good every day, and to grow more like Christ, Amen."

I think no better advice could be given each student of Auburn Academy than this. Good grades, popularity, prestige and position fade into insignificance before honesty, integrity and loyalty to God's ideals. A good character is more to be desired than worldly fame, and a desire to win souls than a place in Who's Who.

The Principal's Message

A few years ago, I spent some time in Dehli, the old Mogul capital of India. Among the palaces and other architectural glories of a colorful past, the thing which interested me most was the throne room, or Hall of Special Audience. This beautiful snowy-white marble pavilion stands on a raised platform, its flat roof supported by "engrailed arches, and pillars inlaid with flowers in green serpentine and many colored agate" and other precious stones. In the ceiling in letters of gold is the world famous inscription, "If there be a paradise on earth, it is this, it is this."

As I stood there and pondered this striking inscription I noticed all about me were evidences of ruin and decay. These men had spent the riches of India and sacrificed hundreds of lives to create a "paradise" which would not last.

Today, people in all walks of life are looking for the Pearl of great price. Many are spending whole lifetimes of energy and means to create some paradise which will perish. But today, more than ever, the world needs young men and women,—honest, sincere, forgiving, large hearted. Christlike—who are building structures of eternal value. It needs those who are faithful to the enduring principles and ideals that have been held before us in this Christian school during the year which is now drawing to a close.

Education in Nature's Setting

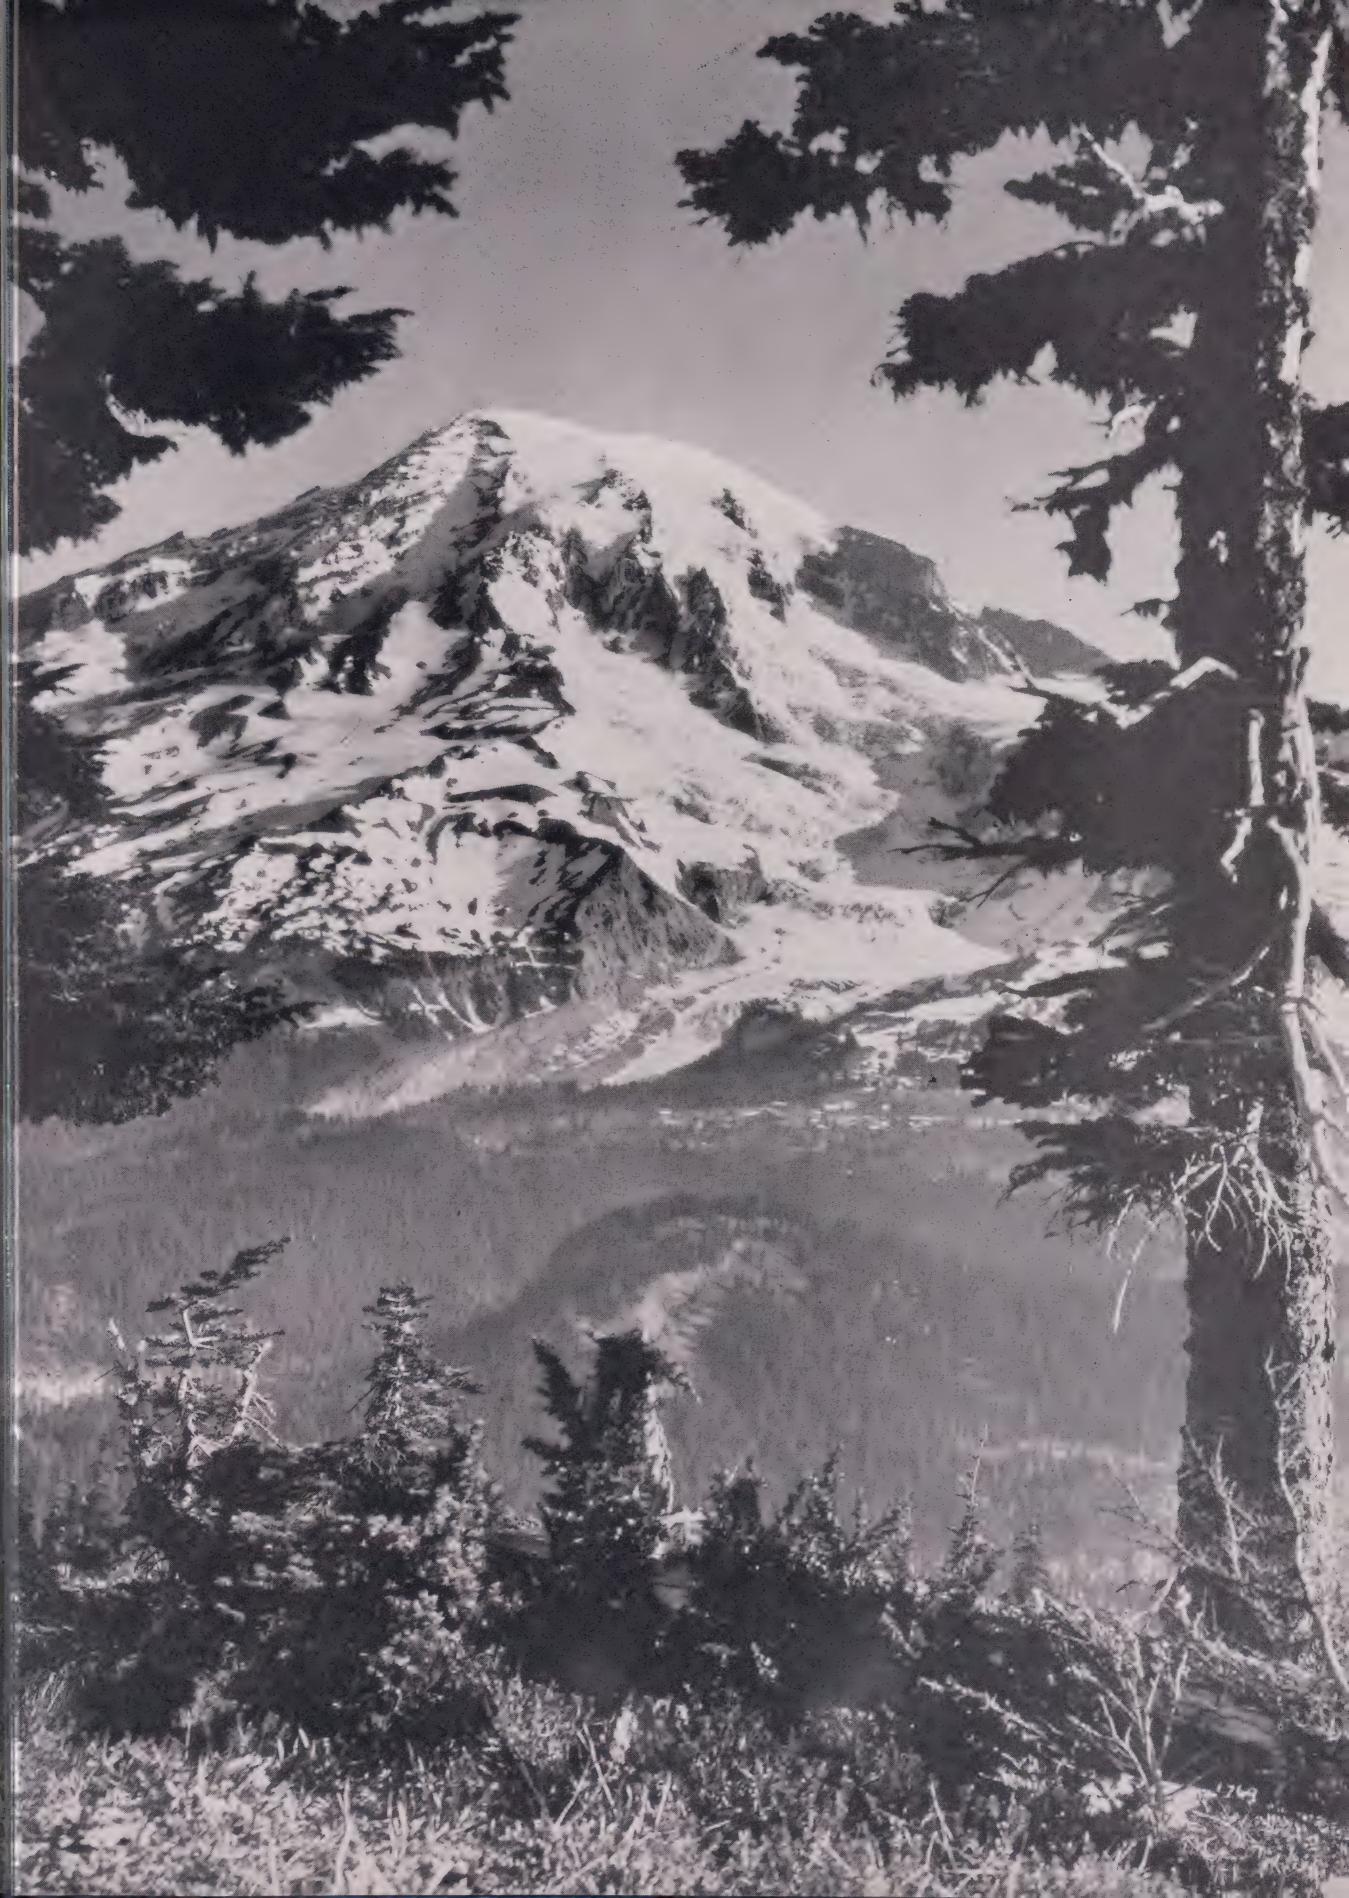

This Senior Class of 1948 and every graduating class of Auburn Academy represents the flower of young manhood and womanhood, stepping out of the doors of a Christian school of secondary education with their eyes fixed upon the Christian college and the horizons of service beyond. They are the product of a combination of education in the spiritual things of life and in the manual arts, in addition to training in the regular scholastic lines. And this threefold education becomes more significant to the Christian youth both for its greater fullness, and for the fondness of memories because it is set in an environment of God's beautiful out-of-doors. These graduates are the product of the teaching of God's Word and of other agencies of truth in the classroom and out, in an atmosphere of Nature at its most enticing. Away from the din of the cities it is as though the great fingers of light reached down from above through the sacred Word and unfiltrated the young minds made more susceptible by the quieting influence of the woods and mountains and rivers on all sides; and the product, more than that of the ordinary high school, is the vision of service for humanity.

It is a beauteous evening, calm and free,
The holy time is quiet as a child
Breathless with adoration; the broad sun
Is sinking down in its tranquility;
The gentleness of heaven broods o'er the sea;
Listen! the mighty Being is astir,
And doth with His eternal motion make
A sound of power—everlastingly.

—Apologies to Wordsworth.

Cainier is king of mountains;
God crowned him long ago
On a throne of rocks, in a robe of clouds
With a glittering crown of snow.

The strains of the choir on Sabbath morning are an integral part of our memories of worship.

Around this scene at the baptismal in the chapel circle many fond memories of experiences which lie deep in the hearts of the students. Many have gone forward to walk in newness of life after their baptism at this place.

A class of thirty-five have been studying together with Elder Peckham during the year, preparatory to baptism.

The prayer bands, groups of earnest, sincere young people, seeking God in prayer, are a source of much help and inspiration. In the daily walk of life in an institution where there are many activities and much life in close associations, seeking God habitually in groups of like-minded fellow students, is a source of strength. Many students have found that these hours spent together in prayer have been as an anchor to them in the stress of a pressing life; and as the years pass, no doubt these experiences will take their place with the more valuable influences of a Christian school, and the ones most prized and cherished by the students who have learned their secret, and who have been fortunate enough to share them.

The Life of

It is on the spiritual activities of our school, founded as it was on high spiritual ideals, that all other things hinge. We who came here, came for a sound education, and above all else, to learn of Christ and His teachings so that, when finally prepared to go out into the world, we may advance the gospel, and warn others of Christ's soon coming.

Our attention is drawn daily to God by our morning and evening worship and the prayer bands; then, in the midst of a hurried series of classes, we pause at chapel time to remember Him and His great love.

This year has provided us with a succession of helpful Missionary Volunteer meetings. Many inspirational programs have come out of the efforts of the two groups of officers, under the sponsorship of Mr. Grunset. The Literature Band, the Sunshine Band, and the Progressive Classes for special accomplishments, have proven an excellent training ground for future gospel workers.

In all these organizations, Sabbath School, Missionary Volunteers and Seminar, the students get experience under faculty sponsorship, of leading out in religious activities.

There's Music in the Air

Over the clear, cool air of the campus often float the strains of sweet music. And not the least of these pleasurable strains is that of the band at practice in the gymnasium. Or it might be that you would hear, at times, the clear notes of a trumpet as the gentle breezes carry them out across the lawn and over the Green River Valley. Sometimes they are the voices of many singers in Glee or choir or trio practices. What a part music plays in our life at school. As with others of our shared experiences in the classroom, music has served to tie our interests and our hearts close together in bands that we hope will never be broken this side of eternity.

Beside the many other out-of-school activities three special organizations invite the interest and participation of students of Auburn Academy. They are the Camera Club, the Teachers of Tomorrow Club, and the Foreign Mission Band. The clubs meet twice each month while the Mission Band meets once a week.

The members of the Camera Club under the sponsorship of Elder Peckham, look with satisfaction upon their accomplishments of the year. By the employment of considerable industry and ingenuity they have converted a small storage room into a comfortable and convenient dark-room. Here members of the group acquire the skills and revel in the thrills of developing, printing, and enlarging.

The Teachers of Tomorrow group, as the name indicates, is made up of those who are considering teaching as their life work. They have enjoyed beyond measure the stories of the early teaching experiences of our faculty members and friends. Teachers at the Academy and friends who have had interesting teaching experiences have been speakers at the meetings. The club banquet was attended by our local conference and union conference educational secretaries. The planned activities of the year include a visit to the Western Washington Custodial School at Buckley. This interesting club is sponsored by Mr. Watrous and Mrs. Border.

Under the able sponsorship of Professor C. L. Witzel, who has been in mission service, the Foreign Mission Band has given study to mission fields and mission problems. It is the aim of this organization to create interest in foreign mission service and to assist in the preparation of those who have set their eyes upon this so worthy a goal. It has become one of the most popular organizations in school.

"LOUIE," CAMPUS MASCOT

You could see him almost any day, this poised little fellow, making his way like the little man that he is, over the Campus from Regina Hall to "Daddy's Metal Shop." Try to stop him; you will not succeed, for he knows his business and he is about it. He will give you a pleasant smile with an understanding twinkle in his clear blue eyes, but he does not allow this to deter him from his objective,—to join Daddy in the big shop.

General Information

DESCRIPTIVE

Two new units are at present being constructed on the campus. The new girls' dormitory is nearing completion. This building will contain a dining room seating over 300 students and rooms for 112 girls. One floor was completed and used by over 60 girls during the school year 1947-1948. The second unit is a new power plant, which will have two 150 horse power high pressure boilers as well as the steam driven generator and the 450 kilowatt Diesel driven generator. This unit will also contain all metal shop class rooms and equipment.

The location of the school is unusually attractive, on the edge of a plateau overlooking the Green River Valley, with the snow-covered Olympics visible in the west, and beautiful Mount Rainier dominating the landscape toward the east. The buildings are set in a campus of several acres, which is fringed on three sides with evergreens of various kinds. The academy farm consists of about 225 acres, most of which is improved and growing good crops. The school now has a fine dairy herd of nearly 40 cows to provide milk and cream for the dining department.

The administration building contains, in addition to offices, music studios and class rooms, the chapel seating about 300, and the dining room with a seating capacity of 250. The library, with about 3000 volumes, is also located in this building. As soon as the dining room in the new girls' dormitory is completed, the old dining room will be converted into a large library and the present kitchen, with store rooms, will be changed to modern laboratories, thus releasing other rooms for much needed class rooms and offices.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

In connection with the academy are a number of organizations, religious and social, which give the students opportunity to develop leadership and their talents of speaking and writing, as well as training in various kinds of missionary work.

Most prominent of these is the Missionary Volunteer Society, conducted throughout the school year by the students, and working in harmony with the general department. Many active bands carry on the work of this organization, including the Master Comrade, Literature, and Sunshine bands. These bands tend greatly to stimulate missionary activities among the students.

The Academy Sabbath School is conducted largely by the students, assisted by teachers.

The students of the Academy have developed an organization known as the Associated Student Body of Auburn Academy. The purpose of this organization is to promote the social and cultural interest of the student body.

THE STUDENT'S PLEDGE

It is distinctly understood that every student who presents himself for admission to this school thereby pledges himself to observe its regulations, and live in harmony with its ideals and purposes. Unless he is willing to do this freely and without reservation, he will not be admitted to the school. If this pledge is broken, he will be retained only by the sufferance of the faculty for such time as he is not a serious detriment to others. Students who fail to respond to appeals addressed to their manhood or womanhood or sense of honor, and those whose influence is found to be harmful, will not be allowed to remain in the school even if they have been guilty of no specially culpable offense. On the other hand the faculty pledges the parents that they will faithfully endeavor, to the limit of their ability, to help young people who seem not to appreciate the privilege and responsibilities that come to them. No student will be lightly dropped from the school, and parents may be assured that their children will be given every opportunity to develop Christian characters as long as they show a desire to cooperate with the teachers toward that end.

SOCIAL GUIDANCE

To assist the student in moving through the academy life with a minimum of friction and at the same time to contribute to his physical, mental and moral powers is the goal of all academy regulations. A kindly application of the following broad basic principles is the aim of the faculty.

No student is retained who uses tobacco in any form. Nor can the school tolerate profane or indecent language, disorderly conduct, card playing, including rook and other like games, also such games as checkers or chess, gambling, dancing, improper associations, the possessing or reading of novels and story-magazines, visiting of pool rooms or other places of detrimental influence. Neither can students be allowed to attend the theater, moving picture show or any other entertainment of an objectionable character, because these interfere with the student's work and exert a wrong influence in the school.

The seventh day is observed as the Sabbath, and a proper quiet and decorum is expected of all students. Engaging in unnecessary work or improper recreation on this day is out of harmony with the spirit of the institution.

Young men and women may associate in a frank, manly and womanly manner at times and in places that are proper and in harmony with the spirit of the school; but sentimentalism, note writing, flirting, strolling together about the grounds, or elsewhere, loitering about the campus or sitting together in public services are not conducive to the best progress in study or to the good name of the school.

As this academy was established for the purpose of giving a distinctly Christian education, no student is retained who either publicly or secretly seeks to disseminate immoral or atheistic ideas among his fellow students.

The home is not a public building. No lady or gentleman would think of entering a private home without permission; hence people living outside, in calling upon members of the home family are expected to observe the civilities of social convention.

It is expected that all students have respect for academy property, and in case of destruction of property of any kind, such as breaking windows, dishes, or tools, the honest student reports the breakage and settles for it.

Because modesty in dress is conducive to sound character building, students should dress simply and sensibly, avoiding extremes. For girls, simple dresses are recommended. The use of cosmetics, the wearing of French or other extremely high heels, very short skirts, sleeveless dresses, low backs, transparent waists, jewelry such as necklaces, finger rings or bracelets is not in harmony with the principles of the institution. We strongly urge parents to supervise their daughter's wardrobe, and save her embarrassment by eliminating anything out of harmony with these principles.

Students who are not Seventh-day Adventists may attend the Academy without feeling any embarrassment whatever, as long as they do not interfere with the plans for which the school is established.

It is expected that young ladies will be properly chaperoned whenever leaving the campus.

Unmarried students whose parents or legal guardians do not reside in the vicinity of the school should board and room at the Academy. Certain circumstances might arise where an exception should be made in this rule. Such cases will be considered by the faculty upon written request with reasons fully stated by the applicant.

If it seems necessary, or to the best interest of the student, faculty permission may be obtained for correspondence work or private lessons.

Should a student be absent 10 per cent of the class recitations during one semester his grades are subject to a cut of one point (from A to B or B to C etc.). Also should a student be absent as much as 20 per cent of the class meetings in one class he may forfeit his grade. The class work missed can be made up if due to prolonged illness.

The management provides from time to time pleasant social gatherings and outing for the students. All gatherings of whatever nature, have a faculty chaperon, and a list of students invited is submitted to the principal at least two days beforehand.

Parents are requested not to give permissions that conflict with the rules of the school.

All classes are entered or dropped by a voucher signed by the registrar. No firearms are allowed on the school premises.

DORMITORIES

The dormitories are in charge of experienced teachers who understand young people, and are able to help them solve their problems. Constant appeal is made for sincere cooperation on the part of every student in maintaining wholesome standards of living on the principle that kindness and confidence are more efficacious than stringent rules. Careful attention is given to the study of the personality of each student, and methods are employed that will best bring out the individuality of each. In a special way the government of the Home rests upon the mutual good understandings between teacher and pupil.

It frequently happens that students are unexpectedly called for, and inasmuch as the home management should at all times know the whereabouts of those under their charge, no student should leave the campus without permission from the dean of boys or dean of girls.

It is desired that the school be quiet and orderly, and that students shall conduct themselves in a manner consistent with a refined home. Loud talking, running up and down stairs, entering rooms without the consent of the occupant, and scuffling anywhere in the building are out of order.

Picture moulding is provided in all rooms. No tacks should be driven into the walls.

The school home is conducted on the same principles as are well regulated Christian homes. Morning and evening worship are maintained in the school homes throughout the year. The deans who are responsible for the worship hour give careful study to these exercises in order that all may be benefited by attending. Every student is expected to be present, and those in charge of the Home require a reasonable excuse for absence.

All students are expected to attend public services on the Sabbath, unless excused by the dean, in which case they will remain in their own rooms.

Owing to the modern easy means of travel, there is a strong tendency on the part of students and parents for frequent week-end visits home. This, however, has been found to be detrimental to the best interests of the school. Therefore it has been recommended that the faculty do not grant permission for such visits more often than once in six weeks, except in extreme cases. Requests should be made to the dean by the parents, in writing, several days before leave of absence is desired. In all cases the faculty reserves the right to decide as seems necessary for the best interest of the school.

Flesh foods are not served in the dining room, and should not be brought into the school homes.

A student's being absent from the dormitory after evening worship without permission is considered a serious violation of the rules of the dormitory.

WHAT TO BRING

Each student should bring four sheets, three pillow slips, a pillow, and a bed spread, warm blankets or comforters, towels, dresser scarf, and a cover for his study table, 30x48 inches; also work clothes, and a laundry bag. Our denominational books such as The Testimonies, Desire of Ages, Christ's Object Lessons, Steps to Christ, will be of help. No rugs, carpets or window curtains are furnished with the rooms, but should be brought by the student if desired. A few pictures for the walls are desirable. Regina Hall girls should bring curtains for one window $5x3\frac{1}{2}$ feet. Girls who will room in the new dormitory provide curtains for one window $4x4\frac{1}{2}$ feet. Boys should bring curtains for two windows $5x2\frac{1}{2}$ feet. Girls should bring a curtain for clothes closet door which is $6\frac{1}{2}x2\frac{1}{8}$ feet. The boys' and girls' dormitories are equipped with single beds. Each student should be provided with a pair of noiseless slippers to be worn during study period.

It is suggested that any girl who expects to sing in the choir or chorus, provide herself with a dark skirt—either black or navy blue—and a white long-sleeved shirtwaist style blouse. White satin is suggested. This provides a uniform appearing group upon public performances, and such an article of dress as a dark skirt is always useful in a girl's wardrobe. Boys who expect to take part in glee club, choir, etc., will find a dark suit and white shirts of great service.

ENTRANCE AND GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

A student is admitted to the Academy upon the presentation of an eighth grade certificate or grades from accredited schools, or upon passing satisfactorily examinations in subjects for which credit is claimed. Students are required to present grades from other schools upon matriculation.

Two curricula are offered. The college preparatory curriculum provides those subjects required as prerequisites for most college courses. With slight modification it can be made to meet the requirements of any college course. Those planning on the nursing, dental or medical courses should include biology in the ninth grade of the college entrance curriculum. Also those planning on a degree in elementary education should include two units of history.

The general curriculum is offered for those who are not particularly interested in meeting college requirements and who wish to add to their programs more subjects from the fields of music, practical arts, and commerce. Seventeen units are required for graduation in each case.

No credit toward graduation is given for less than two years in any foreign language.

No more than two units of credit earned from music courses can be used for satisfying graduation requirements.
